Pakistan Grabs Part Of Kashmir

Indian Troops Near Dacca

NEW DELHI (AP) — India claimed today that its forces were only 28 miles from Dacca, East Pakistan's capital, but said Pakistan's army was holding on to a large section of the vital Chhamb sector in Kashmir.

A government spokesman said fighting was still going on in the Chhamb region, where Indian troops were pushed back to defensive positions Tuesday. "This is a pretty big attack," he said. "The Pakistanis have thrown more than an infantry division and three armored brigades into the attack."

The Pakistanis appeared to be trying to cut New Delhi's only road link with Srinagar, the capital of Kashmir. The highway is west of Chhamb.

In East Pakistan, the drive toward Dacca is headed by three infantry columns moving from the east, south and west, the Military Command said in Calcutta.

He said Indian troops had advanced to the banks of the Meghna River at Daudkandi, 28 miles southeast of Dacca, while the other units were moving toward the capital from Jessore, the army headquarters town which the Indians say they captured on Tuesday.

Jessore is 80 miles southwest of Dacca.

The spokesman in Calcutta said Indian troops also had isolated Pakistani troops at Comilla, 50 miles southeast of Dacca.

Newsman were still barred from the battlefronts, and there was no way to confirm or disprove the official reports.

A government spokesman in New Delhi described Pakistani resistance throughout East Pakistan as "moderate to stiff, but when we lean on them, they just seem to give up."

The advancing Indians have not met any major resistance in the southeastern section of the province around Comilla, he said but heavy fighting is going on to clear the Pakistani army cantonment at Comilla. In the southeastern delta region, he added, the Indians have reached the port of Chandpur, on the water route to Dacca.

The spokesman said Indian Navy planes were putting heavy pressure on the ports of Chittagong and Cox's Bazar, and were reported destroying three gunboats at Chalna in the delta.

He said the navy planes also bombed the army barracks at Chittagong during the night.

U.S. Officials Blame India For War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Indian attack into East Pakistan caught the United States by surprise and came only a few days after President Nixon had told Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of major Pakistani concessions, a high White House official says.

Briefing newsmen on the status of U.S. policy toward the Indian-Pakistan war, the official said neither Nixon nor any other American leader received a response from India.

Instead, the Indians attacked across the East Pakistani border Nov. 22 with Washington having no indication such military action was imminent, the official maintained.

The briefing was called to dispute congressional charges the administration is not neutral and to deny some news reports that Nixon and his national-security adviser, Henry Kissinger, are anti-India.

The official, who put down ground rules that he not be identified nor quoted directly, said U.S. calls for a cease-fire and withdrawal of troops from occupied territory and a charge of Indian aggression do not mean the administration has taken sides.

The United States, however, does have an obligation for the sake of peace to make clear to the world it does not favor recourse to war, the White House official explained.

The whole purpose of U.S. policy on the subcontinent, the official said, is to obtain a peaceful solution and to alleviate human suffering, not to fix blame or quarrel with India.

In explaining administration actions, the official opened his case by reciting that India is a great nation, one the United States traditionally supports.

He said U.S. economic aid in the post-World War II period has totaled $10 billion.

So it is with great reluctance and disappointment the United States finds itself disagreeing with India, the official went on.

He said the present state of play opened last March 25 when the central Pakistani government moved troops into East Pakistan to crush the movement.

From that time, the official said, the U.S. policy has had two major objectives:

First, ease the human suffering and bring about return of the refugees who fled from East Pakistan into India. Second, find a political solution to the problem of East Pakistan.

In search of the first objective Washington has provided or has asked Congress for refugee and related aid this year totaling at least half a billion dollars, he said.

The second goal has proved harder and takes more time to reach, the official stated, but President Nixon has worked personally to help find negotiating positions as have Kissinger and Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

American Jets Attack Reds Along Border

Area Near Laos Site Of Attacks Against Gun Sites

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers dodged surface-to-air missiles, exchanged fire with an anti-aircraft battery and attacked a radar station in a flareup of the air war along the border between North Vietnam and Laos, military spokesmen reported today.

The U.S. Command said there were three incidents Tuesday about 25, 80 and 90 miles north of the demilitarized zone. There was no damage to U.S. aircraft, and results of the U.S. attacks were not known, a communiqué said.

The U.S. strikes raised to 87 the number of air attacks on North Vietnamese territory this year.

The U.S. Command gave this account of the three incidents: 1. Three Navy A7 jets were bombing the Ho Chi Minh trail on the Laotian side of the border 10 miles southwest of the Ban Karai pass when two 37-foot SAMs were fired at them from across the border. The pilots spotted the missiles and evaded them.

2. An Air Force RF4 photo plane checking on the supply buildup on the North Vietnamese side of the border 19 miles northeast of the Mu Gia pass was fired on by an anti-aircraft gun. Two F4 fighter-bombers escorted the photo plane bombing (Continued on Page 2)

Flurry Of Action By Ohio Assembly Skips Tax Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A flood of legislative activity, including a Republican plan for redistricting Ohio's congressional districts, was expected to be introduced into the 109th General Assembly today.

The action would temporarily take the spotlight from a joint House-Senate conference committee attempting to break a nine-month deadlock over a budget-tax bill.

The committee is expected to report some type of measure out late in the evening.

The Republican redistricting proposal, sponsored by Rep. Robert Manning, R-94 Akron, would align congressional districts to benefit Republicans. Ohio will lose one of its 24 districts based on the 1970 census.

The sources said the district of either Charles Carney, D-19 Youngstown or that of Rep. Wayne Hays, D-18 Flushing, would be eliminated.

Also on the floor calendar for the day were two welfare bills reported out of the Senate Rules Committee over the objections of Majority Leader Theodore Gray, R-3 Piquette.

One of the bills would provide that any aid to dependent children or poor relief recipient must work for his check providing he is able-bodied.

The other would require welfare recipients to carry identification cards.

Both of the measures were sponsored by Sen. Tennyson Guyer, R-2 Findlay.

In floor action, the house approved 76-1 a bill greatly extending the powers of the air pollution control board. The measure now goes to the senate for concurrence in an amendment. If the senate approves, it goes to Gov. John Gilligan for signing into law.

Rep. Robert Levitt, R-91 Canton, said the measure would implement a federal plan on air pollution. He said it was necessary to have it into effect by Jan. 30.

The most noteworthy aspect of the measure would free from $500 per day to $10,000 per day the amount an industry could be fined after conviction for air pollution violations.

Cancer Bill Near Approval

President Presses Senate For Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress appears ready to swiftly endorse a compromise $1.6-billion anticancer bill to send scientists on a sweeping search-and-destroy mission against America's most feared and elusive killer disease.

Senate-House conference committee members broke their organizational deadlock and then rapidly resolved their differences Tuesday after President Nixon urged prompt congressional action "so that I can sign cancer legislation into law in the very near future."

In a "Dear Ted" letter to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., chief Senate manager of the legislation, Nixon wrote:

"Both the Senate and House bills clearly recognize the complexities and difficulties we face in the cancer field and both provide the avenue for hope which the American people deserve and desire.

"The fact that we are now so close to final legislation reflects great credit on the members of the Senate and House who have given so much time and thought and energy to this subject—which is so critically important to so many millions of Americans."

With this in hand, congressional conferees settled for a compromise containing most of the features of the version that originally passed the House 350 to 5. The conferees accepted portions of the bill that had been approved by the Senate 79 to 1 and had the backing of the American Cancer Society.

Nixon, Colombo Plan Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has added Italy to the list of nations whose government chiefs he plans to meet before his visits to Peking and Moscow next year.

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Tuesday Prime Minister Emilio Colombo of Italy this month, but the meeting was put off until after Thursday's presidential election in Italy.

Nixon met for nearly 90 minutes Tuesday with President Emilio Medici of Brazil to brief the South American leader on the coming trips to the Communist capitals and to discuss relations between the United States and Brazil, the hemisphere's two most populous countries.

Bill Curbs President's War Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has set the stage for another far-ranging foreign-policy debate with a bill to limit the president's authority to commit U.S. forces to war without congressional approval.

The bill, approved by a 13-0 vote Tuesday, limits such authority to 30 days and to cases of an enemy attack on the United States or its armed forces, "to forestall the direct and imminent threat of such an attack" and to protect evacuating U.S. citizens who are under attack.

The measure is opposed by the Nixon administration. One senior committee member says it could produce a debate to rival that in the mid-1950s when the Senate barely defeated an effort to curb treaty powers through the Bricker amendment.

"I am pessimistic about its becoming law," Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., told reporters. The debate will come next year.

Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, said he was disturbed by language about forestalling "the direct and imminent threat of an attack," contending this could give a president new power to launch a first strike against a potential enemy.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a principal sponsor of the bill, defended the provision, telling reporters: "You don't have to wait until the bombs fall and there are casualties on the ground to act."

Veto Of Salary Increase For City Auditor Stands

Circleville City Council Tuesday failed to muster enough votes to override Mayor Richard Gerhardt's veto of an ordinance which would have increased the salary of City Auditor Marv Turner from $5,000 to $6,760.

The ordinance granting the pay increase was passed unanimously at the last council meeting in November. Mrs. Turner, an elected official, cannot receive a pay increase during a term in office.

In presenting the legislation it was pointed out that it had been several years since the city auditor had an increase and if a wage raise was not granted by council before Jan. 1, it could not be granted during the next four years.

Mayor Gerhardt said he vetoed the ordinance because a yearly increase of $1,760 constitutes an increase of 35.2 per cent which would seem to be in violation of the President's executive order under the Price and Wage Stabilization Act limiting increases to a 5.5 per cent range.

 THE mayor said the last increase of the auditor's salary was four years ago and was an 11 per cent increase at that time. The mayor contended it was unfair to single out one position of a hundred city jobs for an increase, however justified that pay increase might be. Gerhardt contended the city should institute a systematic city-wide plan for increases in the salary schedule of all employees.

Councilmen David Goldschmidt and Frank Barnhill who favored the auditor's wage increase, said they had checked the legality of the ordinance with city solicitor O. Charles Hosterman, the Ohio Municipal League and the Internal Revenue Service at Cincinnati. All three sources said definite guidelines had not been established for elected officials in Ohio. Both the Ohio Municipal League and IRS suggested council pass the pay increase legislation as written, but actually pay the auditor only a 5.5 per cent increase until the Price and Wage Stabilization Board definitely established a limit for elected officials whose salaries cannot be increased during their term in office.

Councilmen David Crawford and Samuel (Pete) Cook both contended that salary increases should be considered for all employees. They agreed with the mayor that it was unfair to single out one person for an increase.

Councilman Goldschmidt, who is finance committee chairman, said that no funds appear to be available to grant an across the board increase to all city employees at the beginning of the year.

He said the finance committee had talked to all department heads and a "tacit agreement" was made that an increase of one half of one per cent in the city income tax would be placed on the ballot at the May Primary.

 IF the income tax increase is approved by the voters, wage increases will be given to all city employees, Goldschmidt said.

Barnhill moved to override the mayor's veto following the lengthy discussion. His motion was seconded by Keith Wagner.

Kearns Reinstated; May Practice Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday reinstated Frank H. Kearns of Columbus to the practice of law.

Kearns, an examiner with the Industrial Commission of Ohio, voluntarily gave up his right to practice after a 1955 conviction of embezzling $210 in public funds. Kearns drew a one-year probation for the offense.

The high court said Kearns had rehabilitated himself in the years since the conviction. The court's board of commissioners on grievances and discipline recommended reinstatement.

State Drops Remaining Kent State Violence Charges

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Trials stemming from the disorders at Kent State University ended Tuesday as abruptly as the violence erupted 19 months ago.

John Hayward, chief prosecutor in the cases, announced that charges against the 20 persons remaining to be tried were being dropped for lack of evidence.

The announcement came shortly after Mary Helen Nicholas, the fifth member of the Kent 25 to go on trial, was acquitted of a charge of interfering with a fireman during the burning of a campus ROTC building on May 2, 1970.

Two of those indicted had pleaded guilty in Portage County Common Pleas Court to charges of first-degree riot, a third was found guilty by a jury of interfering with firemen and charges against another were dropped for lack of evidence.

Hayward said that 10 days ago the special prosecutor had received the transcript of evidence presented to the special state grand jury that indicted 25 persons in the KSU disturbances in which four students were killed by national guardsmen.

He said that after reviewing the transcript and considering the outcome of the trials so far, "It is the conclusion of the office of the attorney general of Ohio that the following cases be dismissed for lack of evidence."

He contended, however, that the first five cases would have been tried anyway, because there was sufficient evidence to warrant trials.

Acquittal of Miss Nicholas, a 21-year-old Kent State sophomore, was ordered by Judge Edwin Jones for lack of evidence. He also said it appeared "there is a great possibility that some of the defendant's rights under the 14th Amendment were not necessarily observed."

Jones earlier upheld the contention of Miss Nicholas' attorneys that the testimony of an arson investigator didn't know a statement she gave the investigator could be used against her.

Francis Brininger, the investigator, had testified that Miss Nicholas told him she had pulled on a fire hose at the ROTC blaze.

Earlier testimony by a fireman indicated the hose had been chopped in two and was useless.

Defense attorneys had said Miss Nicholas thought she was aiding in the arson investigation in making her statement and did not realize she was incriminating herself.

Judge Jones had ruled earlier Tuesday that testimony Miss Nicholas gave the special state grand jury could be offered in evidence at her trial.

James Primm Jr., who prosecuted the Kent State case, congratulated Jones for his "courage" in ordering her acquittal. He said it may not have been legally correct, but it was cor-

Veto Of . . .

Goldschmidt, Wagner, Barnhill and Harold Clifton voted to override the veto while Crawford, Cook and Gladden Troutman voted against overriding the veto. Council Clerk Robert Shadley stated that under the Ohio Revised Code a two-thirds majority vote is needed to override a mayor's veto, so therefore the veto stood. The clerk said if a lesser pay increase is to be considered, it would be necessary to call a special meeting.

Mayor Gerhardt indicated he would not be opposed to a pay increase that followed federal guidelines and was more in line with pay increases granted to other city employees.

In other council action, an ordinance authorizing the director of public utilities to enter into a contract for a preliminary study of the water distribution system was held to a first reading.

Councilman Crawford said the legislation was introduced following a recommendation of the state that additional water storage should be provided.

LEGISLATION authorizing the auditor to pay $5,221.55 in current bills was approved after the first meeting.

The new ordinance with Multichannel Cable Co. for a CATV franchise was approved after a first reading.

Changes in the franchise increase the minimum annual fee from $600 to $1,100 and also increases the annual fee from three to five per cent of the gross profits. The franchise is renegotiable after a period of four years.

COUNCIL BRIEFS
Mayor Gerhardt announced three appointments Tuesday. Edward Erickson, 334 Meadow Lane, was appointed to the planning and zoning commission for a term ending Dec. 31, 1976 to replace Bill Cook. E. W. Hedges, 980 N. Court St. was reappointed to the city Board of Health for a term ending Dec. 31, 1976. James Bailey, 357 E. Mound St., was named to the civil service commission for a term ending Dec. 31, 1973. He replaces W. W. Higgins, who resigned recently.

A letter from the Ohio Department of Health indicating approval of preliminary plans for the proposed sewerage treatment was read. The approval of the preliminary plans does not affect the state's prior denial of the sewage discharge permit. The permit status can only be changed when the Utilities Board and City Council can show additional progress towards completion of the new treatment plant.

A letter from Columbia Gas of Ohio notifying the city of an increase in gas rates pursuant to the fuel cost clause was read.

It was announced that final title to the Ohio National Guard Army which houses the Pickaway County Family YMCA will be conveyed to the city some time in February. The service committee is negotiating with the Y board on a lease.

Goldschmidt noted the finance committee is working on the annual appropriation budget.

A communication from the Ohio Department of Liquor Control notified council that John Isaac was seeking a carryout permit for Isaac Cash and Carry, 456 Clinton St. Chief of Police Robert Temple said he had made a random survey of the area and could see no objection to the issuance of the permit. Temple did note, however, that a liquor license to sell beer had recently been issued to a restaurant at the intersection of the Stoutsville Pike and Route 22, in the city, which should not have been issued. Temple said the restaurant was within 500 feet of the Fairgrounds and should not have the license for that reason. He said council was never notified by the liquor department of the application.

A letter from Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb was read. Judge Lamb asked for a salary increase and an increase for court employees. He asked that a representative of council discuss the request with him. Barnhill, who is a member of finance committee and mayor-elect, was appointed to see the judge.

Preliminary plans for improving Nicholas Drive have been completed and will be submitted to the State Department of Highways. The city is seeking State Issue I funds for the project. City Service Director Atwood Jones told councilmen that very little additional right-of-way will have to be purchased. Preliminary plans call for widening the street only at intersections. He termed the improvement a "resurfacing project." One of the major parts is the installation of curbs and gutters.

A hearing will be held at the beginning of Council meeting Dec. 21 on rezoning the Smith Property on South Court St. A request has been made for rezoning to permit construction of a shopping center there.

NATO Allies Set Increases In New Defense Spending

BRUSSELS (AP) — America's European allies are shaping up a package of modest increases in their defense spending next year, hoping this will ease pressure from U.S. congressmen for a reduction in the 310,000 U.S. troops in Europe.

The complete package is expected to emerge at the end of this week's semiannual meeting of the defense and foreign ministers of the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The first American reaction was due today from Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird at the meeting of NATO's Defense Planning Committee.

Ten of the European allies who form the "Eurogroup" announced on Tuesday that they are increasing defense expenditure in 1972 by "well over" a billion dollars.

This compares with an increase of some $75 million in 1971, but about half of the step-up will be absorbed by inflation.

The billion-dollar addition will bring defense spending to more than $19 billion for Britain, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Greece and Luxembourg.

The bulk of the increase will come from prosperous West Germany, which is planning to up its military spending from $6.6 billion this year to $7.3 billion in 1972. Britain is also planning substantial increases.

A West German spokesman said he is confident that by the end of the NATO meetings Friday, West German and U.S. representatives negotiating in Brussels will also reach agreement on German contributions to offset the expense of keeping more than 200,000 U.S. troops in West Germany.

The United States is reported seeking West German loans, purchases and direct budget support totaling $1.2 billion a year. The purchases are expected to include planes for Luftwaffe, the West German airline.

It would be the first such agreement to include an actual West German contribution to the U.S. budget, such as those the United States has made to many countries since World War II. Defense Minister Helmut Schmidt has proposed that his government do this by picking up the tab for renovation of barracks and other living quarters for the U.S. troops.

Laird on his arrival Tuesday said the Nixon administration would urge Congress to maintain the present level of U.S. forces in Europe until the middle of 1973, the end of the next fiscal year.

U.N. Calls For Cease-Fire; India, Pakistan Ignore Plea

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly called Tuesday night for a speedy end to the fighting between India and Pakistan and a political settlement in East Pakistan. It seemed unlikely to get either.

The assembly adopted a resolution calling on both countries for an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal of their armed forces behind their own borders. The resolution also said

"an early political solution would be necessary" to get the East Pakistani refugees back home.

The resolution was sponsored by 33 of the United Nations' 131 members and got an overwhelming vote of 104-11, with 10 nations abstaining, one not participating and five absent.

Indian and Pakistani representatives said their countries would not abide by the resolution.

The assembly adopted the cease-fire resolution after the Soviet Union, supporting India, vetoed two similar resolutions in the Security Council, and the council rejected a Soviet resolution calling for a political settlement in East Pakistan.

The assembly resolution was a slight revision of the second one the Soviet Union had vetoed in the council.

A paragraph was inserted urging "that every effort be made to safeguard the lives and well-being of the civilian population in the area of the conflict." This was requested by Secretary-General U Thant.

Another paragraph was added calling upon the Security Council "to take appropriate action in the light of the present resolution." But with the Soviet Union backing India and the Chinese Communists supporting Pakistan, the council is deadlocked and nobody expects it to meet on the issue soon.

The votes against the assembly resolution were cast by the Soviet Union and eight of its Communist allies—Byelorussia, the Ukraine, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Mongolia and Cuba—plus India and Bhutan.

The abstainers were Britain, France, Denmark, Afghanistan,

Singapore, Nepal, Oman, Malawi, Senegal and Chile.

'Hughes Book' Purchased

NEW YORK (AP) — McGraw-Hill Book Co. says it has acquired world publishing rights to a 230,000-word autobiography of multimillionaire recluse Howard Hughes and is satisfied that the book is authentic.

McGraw-Hill's announcement Tuesday drew an immediate denial from a spokesman for Hughes Tool Co., which controls the Hughes interests, that such an autobiography existed.

"We just can't say anything further, just that it is not true," the Hughes Tool Co. spokesman said in Las Vegas.

"In my opinion, those who have participated in this thing either are perpetrators or victims of a gigantic hoax," said a spokesman for a public relations firm that handles accounts for the company in Los Angeles.

A McGraw-Hill spokesman responded: "We have taken all prudent and necessary steps to verify the authenticity of the book we are going to publish . . . we are satisfied it is legitimate."

Bicycle Law Asked

committee working out another compromise attempt on a permanent tax-budget bill was to explore further budget cuts at an 11 a.m. session.

Chairman Howard Cook, R-I Toledo, said the level of new spending has been cut to $762 million. "We will try to cut off a few more million tomorrow," he told newsmen following a Tuesday session.

Alvin Peterjohn, legislative auditor hired by the Republican majority, said a one-cent increase in the sales tax could not finance new expenditures of $508 million, including $391 million, for education.

Peterjohn, answering a question leveled a day earlier, said even a one and one-half cent increase would not be enough unless adjustments were made in other areas.

A one-cent increase in the sales tax, Cook said, would raise only $264 million over the biennium. The sales tax boost to finance education and an order to hold spending at the current levels in other areas of state government was suggested as an alternative to a state personal income tax bill.

Peterjohn's testimony kept live the possibility of a personal and corporate income tax, Cook said rates on either tax had yet to be settled.

Where Man Has Failed

If Homo sapiens were as smart as he frequently pretends to be, he would have done something about the weather long ago. In addition to talking about it, that is.

That he hasn't made progress in controlling the weather's idiosyncracies, despite frequent predictions that he was on the verge of doing so, cannot be explained away. He still doesn't know how.

That he puts up with weather ill-suited to his needs on many days of the year shows he is as subject to the whims of the elements as were his ancestors. Obviously many would like to change this.

But if it were possible for them to do so, chances are there would be chaos. Changes put into effect probably would prove unacceptable to as many as the number that hailed them. Some might want to do without rain, but obviously this wouldn't be acceptable to farmers.

And what if air hijackers appeared on the scene, and engineered earthquakes or other upheavals totally unacceptable to the majority?

It's probably just as well that Homo hasn't succeeded in monkeying with the weather. Doing so might have become his biggest mess.

Form Escalation

A North Carolina accountant, who is a former county judge and a former mayor, has taken up the cudgel for the red-taped small businessman. It is all a matter of form, according to William F. Shelton — about 100 forms each year, he estimates, for a hypothetical Mom and Pop grocery store in North Carolina.

"The deluge of forms," Shelton wrote in the National Public Accountant, "is rapidly coming to the point that amounts to cumulative harassment."

State and federal income tax returns — about 18 in all — were added to a dozen more forms for reporting various payroll taxes, for the hypothetical business. On top of those were dozens more for periodic license applications, state sales taxes and various local taxes.

Quite obviously a large part of someone's labor associated with that little grocery store is spent filling out forms. That is a service which performs no function for the store's customers, but does add to the cost of the items they purchase.

Multiplying form harassment throughout industry and commerce, not to mention that to which the individual citizen is exposed, exacts a high toll. Too high, when it reaches the point of threatening a man's ability to earn his livelihood.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. In order to be considered for publication, they must bear the correct name and address of the writer. Anonymous letters and those signed with the request that signatures be withheld will not be accepted for publication. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Herald.

Dear Editor:
I'm certain that most of the citizens of Circleville have already received their Christmas Seals, and have hopefully sent a contribution to support the fight against respiratory diseases. However, I hope that all of those people who have sent a donation have also made a specification — as to how they don't want their dollars spent.

In my envelope addressed to the South Central TB and RD Association, I enclosed the following message:
"I find your use of donations to print leaflets to promote clean air not only highly objectionable, but ironically contradictory. How can you support the fight against one form of pollution — air pollution — while contributing to trash pollution with all of this excess paper. Many people throw away such pamphlets without even reading them. I hope that all who will consider this and stop wasting the money you could be using for active research in a vital area."

And I hope that all of you who read this letter will take a stand on protesting the misuse of funds we contribute in good faith to worthy causes. Too much is spent too loosely in frivolous ways when such monies could be going towards real alleviation of diseases and problems plaguing society today. It is no wonder people object to ever-increasing taxes and pleas for countless contributions when the money is not spent in a rational, constructive way.

MARSHA L. SCHNEIDER

Dear Editor:
I will begin this letter by saying the taxpayers of Pickaway County have a serious school problem to face.

If one can remember back about 15 years ago we heard the cries of consolidation. We were told that our state

Charters would be revoked and state financial aid would cease if we didn't consolidate.

After much bickering and a lot of pressure districts were formed. Now our four districts all have new high schools but still have many problems. Circleville elementary buildings are in good condition but are very overcrowded (our daughter was one of 38 in a first grade class last year). Teays Valley is running double shifts. Their junior highs and elementary buildings are all overcrowded. Logan Elm has just completed their junior high but still have an elementary school problem to face. Westfall has even more problems than the rest with one building condemned and three other buildings in need of repairs and all buildings overcrowded. All of these schools have suffered levy defeats in recent years and they are millions of dollars in debt. Some need to have bond issues passed now!

Ross County still has seven districts even after some consolidation. One of these districts is Huntington Twp. It has the lowest tax rate in Ohio. This is not a consolidated district and they still get $380 state aid per pupil as compared to Logan Elm's $140, state aid per pupil. Huntington tax valuation is $3,090 per student which is 10 times lower than Logan Elm's valuation of $32,470 per student. Both districts have approximately the same number of students.

Now to get to the present issue which is the joint vocational school. Ross County had a population of 61,211 in 1970 and a tax valuation of approximately $190,000,000. Pickaway County had 40,071 people in 1970 with a tax valuation of approximately 173,000,000.

Laurelville School District in Hocking County has approximately 460 people and a tax valuation of $8,000,000, but with Teays Valley going to Eastland Vocational District and New Holland going to Miami Trace School District this leaves approximately 24,000 people with a tax valuation of $124,000,000. However the real point is that we only have approximately 6,000 students and Ross County has 15,000 students. This means that our 3 districts in Pickaway County will pay approximately 40 per cent of the building and operating levy but will actually be sending only approximately 25 per cent of the total number of students. It should be very clear that the vast majority of students will not be Pickaway County students.

The millage rate on this school will be 2.3 mills (0.6 mills was already passed for building cost plus 1.7 mill operating levy will be voted on Dec. 14th). Teays Valley is paying only 1.8 mills for being in Eastland Vocational School. It seems that we would be paying a share very much out of proportion.

It is true that every child is not suited for college, but at the present time I believe we need our current problems taken care of first. Our children must get a good basic education in the elementary grades before they can do well in high school or a vocational school. A vocational system may be needed but let's try to work out a different plan than the present one since it is not mandatory at this time.

These are some of my reasons for voting on Dec. 14th and I will vote "NO!"

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the less publicized trends on Wall Street, where trends make news and profits and losses, is the steady rise in the number of investment advisory services.

In 1966 they numbered 1,633. As of Sept. 30, 1971, more than 3,640 were registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The breakdown shows the trend: 1,732 in 1967, more than 2,000 in 1968, about 2,475 in 1969 and 3,136 in 1970.

Various reasons are offered, and perhaps a half dozen of them share in the explanation of the trend. The chief clue, however, seems to lie in the fact that many of the new advisers are seeking out the small investor.

Not very long ago, you may remember, advisory services couldn't be bothered with ordinary investors. They wanted big money, the business of the institutions and the traders. The small investor had only his own counsel.

This attitude accounted in part for the spectacular growth of the mutual fund industry, which entered the decade of the 1960s with assets of $16 billion and closed out the 10-year period of a $50 billion gain.

Mutual funds claimed to offer the small investor professional research and management. They offered him performance and diversification. They gave him a feeling of security in a market increasingly dominated by institutions.

A certain amount of disillusionment has now set in and fund redemptions are running high. And yet, where does the small investor go? Back to the broker?

Small investors either sense or know that the typical broker is highly sales oriented. Many, if not most, spend less than 10 per cent of revenues on research. The rest goes for underwritings, branch offices, sales promotion.

It is into this void that portfolio managers are stepping. Charging set fees regardless of the number of transactions, they have little temptation to churn accounts. They have no conflict between advising and selling.

The big and growing problem with such services is their quality. Are they really professional? Many aren't. Competitors claim that some services spend up to 90 per cent on selling expenses, leaving little for research.

About all the potential customer is certain of is that the proprietor doesn't have a criminal record. In fact, you don't have to be a seer to visualize this business as heading for problems, as have so many other bandwagon-type concepts in the securities field.

But indicating that the trend may be a permanent aspect of the market is the growing interest in portfolio management by none other than Argus Research Corp., the big research house that supplies advice to hundreds of brokers.

Throughout its 34-year history, Argus has dealt exclusively with the pros. A year ago it formed a subsidiary, Argus Securities Management Corp., and began offering portfolio management for medium-size investors.

That still left the small investor on the outside. As generally defined around the street, the lower limit of the medium-size account is $100,000, which probably rules out you, your neighbors and most of the people you work with.

The broker who purchases the service in effect tells his small customers that Argus, not he, is supplying the advice. In theory, the investor has the security of knowing his advice is based on the same research that goes to institutional clients and that it is motivated by research alone and not by the desire for commissions.

Why not supply the information direct to the investor? Argus claims the distribution costs would be prohibitive. By working through brokers, it claims, the advice can be disseminated for only 2 per cent of the revenue dollar, leaving a large part of the remainder for research.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My father was dying in the hospital. All the doctors agreed that it was hopeless.

Why was it necessary to subject someone like this to valueless treatments that burdened and distressed him? Don't you think he would have been better off if he were just allowed to die in peace?

Mrs. S. L., Pa.
To a physician, there is no more difficult medical, moral, religious, psychological, and philosophical problem than the one that you describe.

All of this is incorporated in the concept of euthanasia. Proponents of euthanasia feel that when someone is hopelessly sick with an incurable disease doctors should take the responsibility of ending that life or at least withdrawing all sustaining medicines.

This is a massive responsibility that you ask physicians to assume. You must ask if you yourself would have withdrawn all help and medicine from your father at the time.

Could you have lived with the sense of guilt that a "medical miracle" might have occurred to change your father's condition?

Could you have lived with the immense burden that you had actually taken your father's life and deprived him of even an extra moment?

I believe that any person has a right to die in dignity and in peace without being bombarded by heroics that are known to be of little or no value.

Yet, as mere mortal, with all the frailties of being human, a decision of such magnitude should not be made by me alone.

Spiritual leaders have for years tried to lay down rules and attitudes. But there is no rule, there is no law, there is no moral or philosophical approach to this problem that can be universally applied to all people.

When, with time, your pain goes away, you will realize that even those futile efforts to sustain your father were motivated by the unselfish dedication of the doctors who treated him.

My husband has recovered from a heart attack. Yet he has seemed to lose all interest in living even though the doctors have assured him that he can return to full activity.

How can we approach this problem?

Mrs. R. W., Mass.
Dear Mrs. W.: Many patients remain emotional invalids for months or even years after complete recovery from an illness.

It is not unusual for a man who has recovered from a heart attack to live in the shadow of fear hat another attack may occur.

Boycott That Boomeranged

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The so-called "sellout" agreement between the British and Rhodesia to put an end to their differences will be the subject of much vituperation in the United Nations, but, in the end, most of the African countries will accept it for the simple reason that they are not yet ready to go against immediate economic interests. From their point of view, the sad fact is that the British-instigated UN boycott of Rhodesia has worked in reverse. It has actually resulted in changing Rhodesia from a dependent part of the British Commonwealth, a colony in everything but name, to a self-sufficient nation in which all the old vestiges of economic and social subservience to London have been stamped out.

In the course of learning to stand upon their own feet, the Rhodesians have made themselves indispensable to their neighbors, and it would be self-destructive for President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia, who is just next door, to try to raise a revolution to topple the white minority that still runs the Rhodesian political system.

Last summer, Kaunda had to reach what he himself referred to as a "painful decision." He had had crop failures, and his people were facing starvation. Rhodesia, forced to shift much of its agricultural production out of tobacco as a result of the UN boycott, had an abundance of maize it was prepared to sell to Zambia. Swallowing his pride, Kaunda put in a 1,500,000-bag order for Rhodesian grain. The first truckload crossed the border in August, and the "great maize lift" will continue until May of 1972. Much of it is being carried by a Rhodesian-based haulage company. This is one aspect of the current reality that has made the UN boycott of Rhodesia a joke.

I have talked with a number of recent visitors to the Rhodesian capital of Salisbury, and everyone has been struck by the "internationalization" of the local economy that has resulted from the boycott. Before the nations of the UN agreed to cut off trade with Rhodesia, British-made automobiles had held the local market. Today the streets of Salisbury are alive with Japanese and French cars.

Someone is being hypocritical. As for petrol to run the cars, Rhodesia has had no difficulty in importing it from South Africa despite the official British blockade of all terminals in nearby Portuguese Mozambique. And, of course, the Russians all along have been buying the Rhodesian chrome ore that the U.S. and Britain have piously refused to take.

In 1970, the Rhodesian manufacturing industry jumped its product by some 28,000,000 Rhodesian dollars, the biggest annual increase since 1960. The Gross National Product of the country made an 8.5 per cent rise in 1970. Textile production has doubled in six years. Despite the shortage of foreign exchange, the local Rhodesian shops are, on the testimony of returned travelers as diverse as Professor David Rowe of Yale University in America and Dr. Walter Henderson of Australia, filled with consumer goods imported from UN countries that are not supposed to be trafficking with the "wicked" Rhodesian white minority.

Besides Zambia, the neighboring country of Malawi has disregarded the UN boycott of Rhodesia. Dr. H. (for Hastings) Kamuzu Banda of Malawi has cultivated good relations not only with Rhodesia but with Portuguese Mozambique and with "apartheid" South Africa itself. The whole "southern third" of Africa has resisted the attempt to topple its governments by force, whether they be black, white or "mixed" colonial. Thus the UN ostracism of Rhodesia ends with a whimper, even though the rhetoric at UN headquarters in New York may still suggest otherwise.

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Carol Burnett and Julie Andrews, praise be, were working in tandem again Tuesday night. This time it was a two-woman special taped on the stage of Lincoln Center's Philharmonic Hall last spring. The magic and the chemistry still work, but it took a bit longer than last time for the spell to start affecting the audience.

A lot of talent, a lot of production and beautiful clothes went into the program.

The two opening sketches could have been played on Carol's weekly show—with Vicki Lawrence playing Julie's roles—without causing much excitement.

But when the two women started their medley of songs of the past decade, the show caught fire, the magic began to work. And the final production number, "Wait Till the Sun Shines, Nellie," made the viewer wish there were another half hour to go.

"Sarge," which will open NBC's Tuesday night schedule until it disappears in January, looks a little more comfortable in its new spot. In the present context, too, it is easier to see why the show has failed to catch on: it is the uncomfortable mix of religion and police action.

George Kennedy, a fine actor, has a little trouble making his character of a priest convincing. And the script writers certainly have their problems writing around Father Cavanaugh. This week, the clergyman had a hired killer after him and was being very brave about it all. The story was slight and far-fetched: the killer was brought in because Cavanaugh in his police days had sent a man to the gas chamber—and his old father wanted revenge.

CBS's "Cannon," who comes along on CBS later in the evening, is no more of a romantic figure than the middle-aged priest, but as William Conrad plays the private eye, he is a warm, appealing character. The latest episode was almost pure action, but when Cannon was not being beaten up or shot at, he was being as lovable as Santa Claus protecting a couple of children.

As all TV viewers know, a man who loves children or dogs has to be the salt of the earth.

Farm Tax School Set

A county Farm Income Tax Management School has been scheduled Friday.

The school will start at 10 a.m. on this date and will adjourn at about 3 p.m. The school will be held in the Flower Building at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. All farmers are invited to attend.

Several new tax provisions will be discussed, such as the new depreciation methods, what is considered expense and what is capital assets. The new methods of handling the sale of purchased livestock, investment credit and income averaging will all be discussed.

It is always good management to have your taxable income from year to year as level as possible. Your taxes are lower if you do not have wide fluctuations of income from year to year. If farmers should have an unusually good year, income averaging would be a good practice.

Income averaging can be used when the taxable year has an income of one-fifth greater than the average of the four preceding years.

Reservations for attending this meeting are not required and everyone is welcome.

Centerville Man Named As Trustee

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Samuel Sava of Centerville was appointed by Gov. John Gilligan to the Central State University board of trustees to serve the remaining four years of the term of Eugene Baker, who resigned.

Sava, 40, currently is with the Institute for Development of Educational Activities, Inc.

Bob Hope Plans Comedy Museum

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Former American presidents have them, so why not a museum for the man who has made presidents laugh?

Comedian Bob Hope said Tuesday he's planning just such a museum in Burbank and will stock it with mementoes of a lifetime in show business.

Included in the exhibit, Hope said, will be items he's picked up in 30 years of tours for the USO entertaining servicemen abroad. He leaves on his latest trip next Wednesday.

"Everywhere I go, the guys outdo themselves to give me some kind of gift that is unique," he remarked. "I've received elephant chairs, elephant tusks, everything you can think of. I've got vaults filled with beautiful things. Pretty soon I'll have a place to put all this stuff."

Hope once contemplated converting his huge North Hollywood mansion into a museum, but decided against it. Instead, he has purchased a large piece of property opposite NBC's Burbank studios. He has had a plan drawn up for the museum building.

"I probably won't get the place under way for a couple of years," he said. "I want to take some time to go around the country and visit various kinds of museums to see how they present things."

Hope's next overseas trip takes him to Hawaii, Okinawa, Thailand, South Vietnam, Tehran, a missile base near Venice, Terjeon Air Force base near Madrid, and Guantanamo base in Cuba. The troupe includes Jim Nabors, Vida Blue, Charlie Pride, Sunday's Child and the usual Hope package of Christmas beauties.

On the night before departure Hope will appear at a rare event: a dinner for Bob Hope.

After years of entertaining at banquets honoring other figures, Hope is the subject of a "Thanks for the Memories" salute to his USO tours.

"The Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce suggested giving me a dinner," Hope explained. "I said thanks, but I didn't need a dinner. Then they came up with the idea of selling tickets at $500 apiece to raise money for a new USO building in Hollywood."

"That was something I could go for. I guess I've been with the USO since it started, and I've seen what great work it has done. Our show gets the publicity, but there are dozens of other USO shows touring all the time and doing a fine job."

The comedian reminisced a bit about his 30 years on the road for USO—or he might have been rehearsing his monologue.

"When I was a kid, I used to dream about traveling as far as Gary, Ind. Now I'm using Bangkok for a laundry drop. You haven't lived until you've had an elephant give you room service."

Garden Club Views Slides Of Christus Gardens

Circleville Garden Club held its annual Christmas Dinner Party Friday evening at the Wardell Party Home.

Joseph Veg, president, presided during a brief business session. He announced that the Council of Pickaway County Garden Clubs would hold a Spring Flower Show with Circleville Garden Club as host for the all day event.

Mrs. Donald Watt presented the program for the evening. She showed slides from Christus Gardens at Gatlinburg, Tenn. She said that since the Christus Gardens were founded in 1960 thousands of people from all parts of the world have visited there. The Smoky Mountains provide a beautiful setting for the gardens.

The gallery hall contains a series of still life dioramas depicting scenes from the life of Christ. While viewing these every detail is so perfect that the visitor feels it is real. Choral music, dramatic lighting and the narration adds to the realism.

The costumes worn by the figures were designed by the same firm that designed the costumes for the motion pictures, Quo Vadis and Ben Hur. Fabrics used were woven by hand in the Holy Land.

Outside in the patio garden is found the beautiful sculptured head of Christ made of Carrara marble and is famous for its watchful eyes.

Slicked-Up Slacks Suits Mark Fashion Showing

By ANN HENCKEN
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hot pants may be dead and knickers passed but the slicked-up slacks suit has survived.

It is becoming more important, especially in such lush fabrics as cashmere, designer Halston said after his spring showing Tuesday.

"All the chic ladies wear slacks," he said, and he's tried hard to please his long list of chic client.

For a while many designers got bored with the original slacks suit. When it reached everyone from stewardesses to nurses, they figured it was time for something new. They've shown pants in every possible length and just about every material.

Halston, known for his simple, elegant styles, sticks to one length in slacks—long. He gives them high waists or flared cuffs and concentrates on some dramatic tops.

The loose top to his Chinese slacks suit is fastened only at its mandarin collar. Halston shows a lot of skin with halters or deep V-necks, sometimes covered with loose jackets. Or he reveals the outlines of the body through a layer of chiffon caftan.

"Anything to show the skin. They love the skin game," says Halston. He describes his look as "nudity without being nude."

For day, he likes cashmere sweater sets over pants or long, full, lush skirts. There are suede suits and easy belted jackets.

In general, his clothes are looser this year, from drooping dolman sleeves to full-backed coats.

"Something that doesn't grab the body, that's a trend," he says, and he brings back many chiffon ponchos and caftans to prove it.

However, he includes a series of black evening dresses that do hug the figure. They promise a wow-wow evening: front slit skirts, cut-out midriffs and all.

Women are beginning to want a more dressed up look in clothes, says Halston—from slacks suits to evening wear.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Help Needed, Not Harassment

DEAR ABBY: We've been married 14 years and have four sweet kids. Over the years my husband has done some pretty mean things. Here is an example:

Yesterday my youngest cried when I told her I couldn't attend the first PTA meeting as that was my night to do the weekly grocery shopping. When I realized how much it meant to her to have me meet her teacher and view her work, I knew I had to go, so when my husband came home from work, I told him his dinner was on the table, and I was rushing out to do the marketing early, so I could attend the PTA meeting.

Well, Abby, he flew into a rage like a madman when he saw there was no full-course dinner waiting for him—but something I had quickly put together instead. He shouted that he would not put up with meals like this, as though I fed him that way every night! He also said it wasn't necessary for me to go to the PTA meeting, and I was only using it as an excuse to get out of the house. (And all of this in front of the children?)

I did the marketing with a lump in my throat and when I returned, he refused to help me carry in the nine bags of groceries!

Abby, what do you think of a 41-year-old man with a master's degree and an executive position who treats his family this way?

HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: Maturity and consideration do not come in degrees. And by the way, your husband is as much a parent as you, and as such he should have gone to the PTA meeting with you. (P. S. I hope your husband grows up before his kids do.)

DEAR ABBY: You jokingly said "Now, if Ma Bell would only come up with a gadget that would signal those nonstop talkers to say goodbye!"

Well, we of Standard Telephone in northeast Georgia have used a feature for some 20 years. Our apparatus signals a short warning at the end of five minutes. Sixty seconds later another warning signal is heard, after which the connection is automatically broken.

This does not, of course, prevent the parties from receding each other. It does, however, free the line for others who may be trying to get either of the long-winded parties. Yours very truly,

H. M. STEWART

DEAR MY STEWART: The feature is great if one of the parties is eager to terminate the conversation. But can you imagine the resentment an automatic disconnect would create if both parties were enjoying a "longwinded" conversation about love? Or money?

DEAR ABBY: After years of accepting congratulations and gifts on my birthday just for having been born, it suddenly occurred to me who really deserves the gifts.

After that, on my birthday, I sent my mother one rose for every year of my life. I enclose a note, "With loving thanks." She knew who had sent them.

Now that she is no longer living, I send a contribution on my birthday to my mother's favorite charity in her name. The card still says, "With loving thanks."

J.
DEAR J.: Thank you for sharing a beautiful idea. CONFIDENTIAL TO "KEEP ME ANONYMOUS IN SAN ANTONIO": The person who is always first to not have his glasses cleaned.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped addressed envelope.

Condemned Man Is Freed After Admitting Slaying

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP) — Edgar H. Smith Jr., free from Death Row after admitting the 1957 slaying of a teen-age girl, said, "It was a difficult choice, but I wanted to be free."

Smith, who was on Death Row longer than any American prisoner, said he felt he might have let some of his supporters down by changing his plea from innocent.

"I considered all that. But I also considered that I had been in jail for 14 years and 9 months. I looked at what I had been through. It was not likely I'd gain my freedom in the near future," he said.

Smith was freed Monday night after Superior Court Judge Morris Pashman accepted his plea of no defense in the bludgeoning of Victoria Zielinski, a 15-year-old high school student. The girl's body was found in a gravel pit in Bergen County on March 4, 1957. The plea was by agreement with the state to avoid a new trial.

Judge Pashman set sentence at 25 to 30 years, then gave Smith credit for time served, suspended the remainder of the sentence and put Smith on probation.

Smith, now 38, was convicted of murder in May 1957 and was sentenced to the electric chair. The conviction was overturned.

Man Given Life For Burglary

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A 36-year-old man has been sentenced to life in the Ohio Penitentiary on a charge of burglary of an inhabited dwelling in the night season.

Kerry Hartbarger, formerly of nearby Carlisle, was sentenced by Judge Fred B. Cramer after a jury in Butler County Common Pleas Court returned a guilty verdict Monday and did not recommend mercy.

The penalty for burglary of an inhabited dwelling in the night season is life imprisonment unless mercy is recommended.

Hartbarger was arrested last week at the scene of a burglary in nearby Hamilton County. Until then, he had been sought in the burglary of a home in nearby Middletown on Dec. 18, 1969.

last June by a federal appeals court judge, who ruled that Smith's confession in 1957 had been coerced and was unconstitutional. A new trial was scheduled.

Smith had escaped death 19 times by appeals and while in prison he wrote a best-selling book, "Brief Against Death."

Under questioning by Pashman Monday, Smith confessed to the crime.

"Mr. Smith," the judge asked in the hushed courtroom, "did you and you alone kill Victoria Zielinski?"

"I did," Smith replied in a barely audible voice.

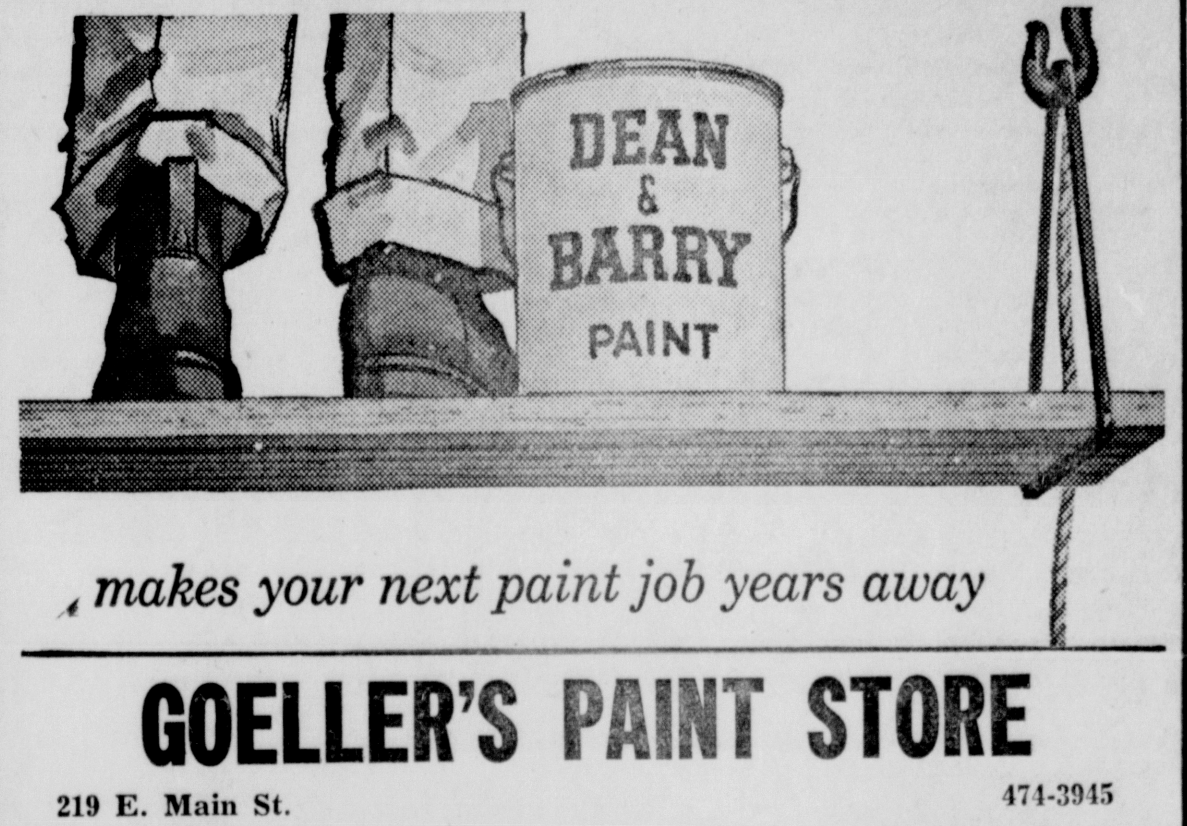

"Was anyone else there when you killed her?" the judge asked.

"No," Smith replied.

Plane Crash Kills Couple From Dayton

NEW LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—A single-engine Cessna 175 crashed into a farm field near here, killing a Dayton couple, as it apparently attempted to land at a small airstrip in fog Tuesday night.

The Montgomery County Sheriff's department identified the victims as Richard Henrich, 65, and his wife, Georgia, 63, of Dayton. The two reportedly were on their way home from Texas.

The small plane, which was based at New Carlisle Airport in Green County, broke into hundreds of pieces as it plunged into the muddy field.

The crash occurred about 7:55 p.m.

Deputies at first thought an infant also was among the victims because diapers were found in the wreckage. A search failed to locate a body.

Officers theorized the craft was low on fuel and attempting to approach the Dahio Air Strip about a mile away. They said the plane hit utility lines and plummeted to the ground on the Emerson Shock property near here in western Montgomery County.

The crash site is about 500 yards northeast of the New Lebanon-Dixie High School.

Arctic Air Brings Snow In West

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A storm center drifting through New Mexico and an Arctic air mass stretching from the Pacific Northwest to the northern Great Plains brought wintry weather to much of the western half of the nation today.

In the eastern half, a low pressure system brought rain to the Middle Atlantic states and scattered patches of drizzle from Arkansas and Tennessee to the Great Lakes.

Heavy snow warnings have been issued for New Mexico, the mountains of eastern Arizona and southwest Colorado. The same storm system brought travelers' warnings to northwest Texas and western Oklahoma.

The cold air mass in the West caused sub-zero temperatures in much of Montana and parts of western Wyoming. Combined with moist winds off the Pacific, it brought locally heavy snow to the Washington Coast.

Quillayute and Port Washington, Wash., both reported two inches of snow in a six-hour period.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 23 degrees below zero at Butte, Mont., to 77 at Key West, Fla.

The National Weather Service predicted snow through the southern and central Rockies and scattered snow through the central Great Plains to Minnesota. Colder weather is expected from the Southwest to the northern Great Lakes, while mild temperatures will extend from Texas and Florida to New England.

Open Library On Strip Mine Operations

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The national Conservation Foundation is opening a library here to collect and distribute information about strip mining—both pro and con.

The library will be operated by the Mid-Appalachian Environmental Service, which has employed a full-time research director for the project.

Normal Williams, head of the Service office, said agencies throughout Appalachia where stripping is an issue are being asked to submit material on any aspect of surface mining.

The library has made available for groups wishing to study the issue a basic information kit containing a neutral discussion paper, two pro-industry publications and two anti-industry publications.

Forty-two cases were removed from the Common Pleas Court Docket during November and only 33 new cases filed during the same period.

Filed were 24 cases involving domestic relations, 10 other civil matters and 4 criminal cases.

In the domestic issues, one was contested and tried before the court and five uncontested were also tried. The final eight were dismissed.

Eleven of the 23 civil actions were given court trials while the remaining were settled and dismissed. One criminal matter was heard by a jury, the remaining four entered guilty pleas to the court in trial.

In the court of appeals, one new case was filed, making a total of seven cases pending on the docket.

Man Starts Prison Term For Robbery

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tyrone Powell, 26, of Cincinnati has begun a 20-year federal prison sentence for his part in the Oct. 23, 1968, robbery of the Fifth Third Bank in which $10,532 was taken.

Federal and local officials continued to seek an accomplice, Powell was apprehended in June at Birmingham, Ala. by

Approves Grid Loan

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The state has approved the borrowing of $9 million to help finance a new University of Kentucky football stadium at Lexington, 30 miles from here.

Most School Levies Approved

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four Ohio school districts, including one that has been shut down a week, were given new financial life Tuesday as voters approved new tax levies.

But two other districts will be out of business for the rest of the year as a result of voter rejection of levy requests.

Voters in the Southwest Licking Local School District in Licking County approved Tuesday a long-term 10-mill levy by a vote of 1,023-934, permitting the district's five schools to re-open Thursday.

The schools were closed to 2,200 pupils Dec. 1 because of lack of funds after a 7.5-mill levy request was rejected in November.

Saved from almost certain shutdown by voter approval of new levies were:

—Elmwood Local, Wood County, 6.4-mill levy approved 927-828.

—Ansonia Local, Darke County, 8-mill levy approved 781-395.

—Green Local, Wayne County, 8-mill levy approved 614-634.

At Urbana, where the city schools are in financial trouble, but were not in imminent danger of closing, voters passed a 4.5-mill levy by a slim 1,557-1,500 margin.

Meanwhile, the Otsego School District in Wood County, which has been closed since running out of money Nov. 22, was denied a request for an 8-mill levy. The vote was 1,137-942.

Officials there said the schools now will have to remain shut down the rest of the calendar year.

And in the Preble Shawnee School District in Preble County, voters soundly rejected a 12.8-mill levy 1,051-510, meaning classes will end Friday for the 2,110 pupils, according to officials.

Another district faced with closing if more funds were not provided, the Clyde Exempted Village District in Sandusky County, had a 3-mill request before voters, but results were not available Tuesday night.

Other financially-troubled school districts are seeking more money from voters later this month. Monday 27 more districts will face critical special election votes on new funding.

Two more districts will be able to get through December as a result of action by State School Supt. Martin Essex Tuesday permitting them to borrow from private lending institutions.

The 147,000-pupil Cleveland City School District was authorized to borrow $8.5 million and the Wynford Local District in Crawford County, $67,000.

The action was permitted under emergency legislation enacted by the General Assembly recently which allows districts to acquire loans from private sources to continue operations through December, with the state paying December interest.

The legislation requires that districts seeking loans show evidence that existing revenue sources will permit their schools to remain open through calendar year 1972.

Transfer Five Juvenile Cases

Cases of five juveniles, all arrested with an adult following an accident in November for consuming alcohol, were given initial hearings last week in Pickaway County Juvenile Court.

Two South Bloomingville boys, age 17 and 16, had their cases transferred to juvenile authorities in Hocking County. The remaining three juveniles, all Columbus residents, will have their cases heard in the Franklin County Court.

The six were involved in an auto accident on Route 56. Michael Jones, 17, Tarleton, was fined $10 and had his license suspended except for work and school purposes, for speeding 80 miles an hour on County Road 811.

A Circleville area boy, 17, was placed on probation for three years for running away from home. He was given credit for 11 days spent in detention for refusing to return home and go to school.

William Merriman, 16, lost his driving privileges for 30 days after being found guilty of failure to keep assured clear distance ahead and causing an injury accident on N. Court St.

A Route 1. Williamsport boy was charged with breaking and entering and theft of some small change from the residence of Floyd Jenkins. The youth was given 3 years probation, ordered to complete 50 hours of community work and seven days in detention.

A 13-year-old who was found guilty of receiving part of the stolen money was given same probation and ordered to do 50 hours of work in the community.

Republican Tribune Ceases Publication

McARTHUR, Ohio (AP)—The Republican Tribune, a weekly newspaper founded in the late 1800s and circulated in Vinton County, has ceased publication.

Its owner, Richard Kunzman, said only that "personnel shortages made publication impossible."

The paper was published in a print shop Kunzman operates in Nelsonville, Athens County.

Spain has saved many old fortresses by converting them into wheat silos, distilleries, vacation retreats, museums and schools.

Male Nurses May Save Profession

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mother is thrilled when her son decides to become a doctor. But what if Johnny wants to be a nurse?

Once, the reaction would have been tears. But now, increasing numbers of men are making the once feminine profession of nursing a respectable male pursuit.

"Frankly, I look to them as the saviors of our profession," says Nancy Lockwood, a pediatric instructor at Children's Hospital here.

At California State College at Los Angeles, among the largest college training centers for nurses in the United States the male enrollment has doubled this year.

"Some are coming to nursing from such fields as teaching, aerospace, communications—where the economic squeeze has been sharp," says Dr. Lucie S. Young, chairman of Cal State's nursing program. "Others have come out of the service with a bonus experience as medics."

The male nursing force isn't huge. Of 1,062 persons enrolled in the Cal State nursing program, 57 are men. And of the 150,505 registered nurses in California, an estimated two percent are male. Dr. Young says, however, that this represents approximately 10 per cent of all male nurses in the country.

Dr. Young hopes there will be more. She says men provide qualities sometimes missing from an all-girl nursing corps. "Even with career orientation women do not always provide a stable continuity within the profession. They may marry—most nurses do and most have children." A man, she says, "goes into this with the idea that it is a career and he wants to advance in it."

17 Ashbrook Urged
To Fight Nixon

GARDEN CITY, N. Y. (AP) — A group of 12 conservatives, dismayed at what they consider President Nixon's swing to the left on vital issues, have asked Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio, to challenge the President in next year's primaries. Newsday, the Long Island newspaper, reported today.

In a copyright story from Washington, Newsday correspondent Myron S. Waldman said Ashbrook was considering the proposition but had not yet made a final decision.

Poor Bomb Loading Blamed For Loss Of Ammo Vessel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Transportation Safety Board says poor loading was to blame for the bomb explosion that sank the Vietnam-bound SS Badger State and killed 26 of her crewmen two years ago in the stormy North Pacific.

The ship, carrying 5,336 tons of bombs, was bound from the Naval Ammunition Depot at Bangor, Wash., for Da Nang, South Vietnam, when it was caught in heavy seas that lasted for 11 days.

The safety board said the Coast Guard, which is responsible for loading explosives, should develop a "military explosives stowage criteria" to govern safety conditions for a ship carrying explosives in rough seas, to prevent recurrence of such an incident.

It urged that a means be developed for shipboard measurements of a vessel's roll in storms, so a captain could determine the safety margin remaining.

The Badger State was loaded by depot personnel and crew members under a valid Coast Guard loading permit.

The safety board told of 500-pound, 750-pound and 2,000-pound bombs breaking loose from their fastenings and careening about the decks during the voyage. The bombs splintered wood sheathing over the ship's hull, punched holes in the vessel's sides, and some plunged through hatches, generating heat and sparks.

On the day after Christmas 1969, with the improperly-loaded ship rolling as much as 50 degrees, a 2,000-pound bomb exploded, tearing a hole 12 feet long and eight feet high in the hull.

The master sounded the abandon-ship signal.

A lifeboat with 35 crew members aboard was lowered into the water. As the storm dashed the lifeboat against the ship, a 2,000-pound bomb fell from the ship into the boat, injuring many of the occupants and capsizing the boat.

A Greek merchant ship, Khian Star, answering a distress message, arrived on the scene about 30 minutes later but was able to rescue only 14 survivors, including the Badger State's master.

Recount Confirms Judge Lost Race
CINCINNATI (AP)—A partial recount in the Nov. 2 election confirmed just what Judge George W. Bunyan hoped it would—that he was soundly defeated for another term in Hamilton County Municipal Court.

Bunyan said he put up $200 of his own money for the recount to prove the accuracy of the highly-criticized Coleman Vote Tabulation System used by Hamilton County. He said he hoped to restore public confidence in the system.

Gerstenberg Heads GM

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard C. Gerstenberg, who joined General Motors Corp. during the depression as a $125-a-month factory timekeeper, has been elected chairman and chief executive officer.

The 62-year-old executive, now GM's top financial officer, will succeed James M. Roche, who retires at the end of the month under the company's mandatory retirement program.

Roche, who turns 65 next week, has been chief executive for the past four years.

After his election Monday, Gerstenberg indicated no plans for major policy changes.

He expressed his "full and continued support of President Nixon's economic program," calling it the only way to reduce unemployment and inflation and strengthen the dollar abroad.

A Senate Commerce Committee reports that cars produce 85 per cent of smog in cities and 90 per cent of all carbon monoxide pollution.

Coalition Set To Oppose Big Industries

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor and antipollution forces are joining environmentalists in a broad-based coalition that will present a strong front to what they call a threat from major industries.

The Associated Press has learned 16 organizations already are banded together in search of solutions to environmental problems affecting workers and inner-city dwellers.

The coalition, known as the Urban Environmental Conference, includes such groups as the Sierra Club, Wilderness Society, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the United Auto Workers union.

The triple alliance has been developing since Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., began inviting representatives of various groups to meet in his office several months ago.

Announcement of the conference's formation was not planned until early next year.

So far, no coordinator has been selected for the coalition, but subcommittees are being formulated and strategy sessions have been set up to discuss three main topics of concern.

These are:
—Alleged "economic blackmail" by some industries that claim antipollution requirements may force layoffs of workers or closing or movement of plants.
—The social, environmental and economic impact of high-way construction.
—And, housing—particularly in the inner cities.

rect ethically and morally. "This has been a rather painful case for me," Primm added. He noted that he believed Miss Nicholas was being tried solely on her testimony before the grand jury.

Trials of the Kent 25 started Nov. 22, with Jerry Rupe, 24, of Ravenna, the first to be tried.

Rupe, who never was a student at Kent State, was convicted by a jury of interfering with firemen at the ROTC blaze. However, the jurors were unable to agree on a verdict on charges of arson, first-degree riot and assaulting a fireman.

Charges of arson and first-degree riot against Peter Bliet, 23, of Rochester, N.Y., were dropped by the state for lack of evidence after his trial started. Bliet was a junior at Kent State during the May 1-4, 1970 disturbances.

Pleas of guilty to first-degree riot charges were entered later by Larry Shub, 20, of Cleveland Heights, a former KSU student, and Thomas Fogelson, 21, of Akron, who never was enrolled at the university. Sentencing of both was deferred.

The state dropped charges of second-degree riot and attempting to burn property against Shub and a charge of interfering with firemen against Fogelson.

More Layoffs Hit Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A new wave of economy layoffs has started at Cleveland City Hall, and the total number idled is expected to reach 1,000 before Mayor Ralph Perk is finished.

Perk announced 85 new layoffs Tuesday, and more were expected today.

The 85, who are to be cut from the payrolls effective Dec. 22, include some electrical foremen who earned $19,843 a year, as well as some clerks at $7,878 a year. Hardest hit department was the division of light and power, which is losing 35 employees.

TRANSFERRED — Gary E. Ruff, Chillicothe, an engineer in the Circleville DuPont Plant's project section, is being transferred to the company's pigment plant, New Johnsonville, Tenn. Regional Sewage System Planned

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court Judge George McMonagle says the court may impose its own plan for a metropolitan sewage treatment program.

He said Tuesday that he would consider such action at a hearing Jan. 18 unless Cleveland and 31 suburbs tied to its sewerage system agree on a program soon.

"I feel the court has the power to impose a plan if it need be imposed," the judge said. "And it appears that the situation is getting to the point where it may require such action."

Chamber Elects Officers For '72

Changeover was made for the 1972 term of office of president of Circleville Chamber of Commerce and new members of the Board of Directors announced at the Tuesday luncheon meeting.

New to Chamber directorships this year are Benny Burns as the first woman director, Nelson Embrey, Myron Haradon, Dan Hindy, Bob Moon, Don Thompson and Gene Wilson. Old members continuing their terms are Carlos Alvarez, Ralph Ankrom, Al Berger, Bill Heiskell, Dick Pettit, John Stevenson, Wally Yamarick and past president of the group, Doyle Spangler.

Spangler turned the gavel over to his successor, Kenny Fosnaugh, to the president's seat of the Chamber. A unanimous voice vote gave the vice presidency to John Stevenson. Stevenson will succeed Fosnaugh as president in 1973.

Chamber members gave their approval to the decision of organization heads to pull their major efforts in 1972 toward city-county planning. Ned Harden, chairman of the corresponding committee outlined eight steps of the planning program his committee suggests for Circleville and Pickaway County, including:

1. REVISION and re-establishment of the county planning commission on a more reasonable basis but cutting its membership from 25 to 10.
2. Seeking professional planning assistance by initially hiring as the need arises.
3. Work toward a master plan for the entire county.
4. Change the present individual township zoning to countywide zoning.
5. Establish a county-wide sewage district capable of handling the increased usage citizens are now expecting from wells and septic tanks.
6. Using all possible means to assure proper and orderly growth of the county.

7. EXPLORING possibilities of joint action with neighboring counties.

8. Enlisting the aid of local groups to attain these goals.

In other matters discussed at the meeting, ticket sales for the annual Chamber dinner were begun and information distributed. There will be 360 seats available for the annual meeting slated Jan. 11 in charge of ticket sales is Ron Eitel with captains Tom Odwald and Walter Yamarick.

Bob Shaw of the National Management Assn. spoke briefly to assembled members about a seminar for executives, supervisors, salesmen, engineers and professional people in management which is planned for Jan. 11, 1972, from 7-8:30 p.m. at the 4-H and Grange Building. The live film presentation will be used to demonstrate ways in which the management course may assist local industry and business in development, both personally and professionally, of management potential.

The NMA is based in Dayton. Membership for the present year is 193. During the drive which starts Friday and will continue through January, Chamber members hope to encourage enrollment of over 200.

Vikings, Braves Tilt Highlights County Schedule

It will be double duty for Teays Valley and Logan Elm this week with the big event taking place Saturday night when the county rivals go against each other on the Braves' floor. Westfall will hit the hardwoods Friday night against Unioto on the latter's court.

There is always plenty of fireworks when the area schools go against each other and Saturday's clash promises more of the same.

Both the Vikings, 1-2, and the Braves, 0-4, have been off to a slow start and are working hard to find the winning combination.

After winning their opening game against a tough Miami Trace five the Vikings have hit a cold spell and dropped the next two contests to West Jefferson and Grove City.

THE Braves, despite being winless, have played some tight ball games and with any luck could be on the winning side of the ledger.

Coaches Bob Hoover of the Vikings and Chuck Pritchard of Logan Elm will pull out all the stops in this contest and it should be a real barn burner.

It will be Metropolitan League action Friday night for the Vikings when they host the Falcons of Franklin Heights.

The Falcons downed the Braves of Logan Elm last week and have three victories to their credit.

Led by 6-foot-5 Doug Baer and 6-foot-2 Tom Williams, the Falcons have good board strength, coupled with a pair of fine shooting guards in Dan Gordon and Terry Perigo.

Logan Elm will be at Adena Friday night in a Scioto Valley Conference clash with the Warriors.

A veteran ball club will take the floor for the Warriors who are a strong contender for the Conference title.

Coach Jeff Bigum will take his Westfall Mustangs to Unioto Friday night in another SVC encounter.

With a 2-3 record to their credit, the Mustangs will be out to even the count with a win over the Shermans.

Paced by the sharpshooting Bruce Beatty, Westfall has the guns but haven't been able to find the range in the last two outings against Circleville and Paint Valley.

Saturday night will be an open date for the Mustangs.

Rice Named California Angels Pilot

ANAHEIM (AP)—After searching five weeks, the California Angels came up with the same fellow as manager that they signed a dozen years ago.

A grandfather but not a greybeard, Del Rice must mold youngsters into a pennant contender but the 49-year-old baseball veteran makes no promises.

"Rice fits the role completely of the man we need," declared new general manager Harry Dalton in announcing the selection of a man who caught 17 years in the major leagues and since has served as a major league coach and minor league manager.

"We have a young ball club and I think in the future it may become even younger."

Rice played with the St. Louis Cardinals 10 years and appeared in the World Series with the Cards in 1946 and with the Milwaukee Braves in 1957.

Last season, he managed the Angels' affiliate Salt Lake City to the championship of the Pacific Coast League. A big, quiet man, he has assimilated knowledge and philosophy from the many under whom he served.

In 1960, he was signed by the American League's embryo Los Angeles Angels and was the catcher in 1961 when the club opened its first major league campaign.

Since then he has served as a coach and minor league manager.

His job now will be to rebuild a club which collapsed in 1971 when Alex Johnson was suspended and Tony Conigliaro decided it was time to quit the game.

Dave Brent sidelined by a broken leg, the eighth-ranked Dolphins were hurt by a lack of height and were upset Tuesday night by Florida State 90-83 in the finals of the Civitan Tournament at Jacksonville.

Three other members of the Top Ten managed to win Tuesday night, but it wasn't easy.

No. 2 Marquette needed a desperation, last-second, 30-foot heave from reserve guard George Frazier to eke out a 74-73 victory at Memphis State.

Ninth-ranked Michigan led by as many as 12 points with five minutes to go, but needed a foul shot by sophomore Terry Tyler with six seconds left to

Essex Johnson Gives Full Effort For Cincy Action

CINCINNATI (AP)—Essex Johnson is still considered a "spot player" with the Cincinnati Bengals although he has broken for six touchdowns this year, the last one an 86-yard gallop in a losing effort against the Cleveland Browns Sunday.

Johnson, 25, from Grambling College, is in his fourth season with the Bengals who drafted him as a defensive back for the expansion team in the old American Football League.

Johnson was switched to running back that season by Coach Paul Brown and he played backup to Paul Robinson who was named rookie-of-the-year in 1968. Robinson at mid-season was benched in favor of rookie Fred Willis from Boston College. Now Johnson is playing behind him.

Brown uses Johnson mainly in late second and fourth quarter situations against tired defenses. In the opener against Philadelphia he ran 68 yards breaking three touchdowns for a score.

He had two more in the first loss to the Browns, on a 49-yarder.

He caught a pass for a 41-yarder against Oakland and another for 67 yards against Denver. He has gained 491 yards on 80 carries and caught 16 passes for 196 yards in 12 games.

"I always try to go for the strike," said Johnson. "I never clinch an 89-88 victory over local rival Eastern Michigan.

And 10th-ranked Penn edged Duke 50-49 at Durham, N.C., thanks to a 10-foot jumper by 6-8 senior Bobby Morse with 38 seconds left in overtime.

None of the other teams in the Top Ten were scheduled.

Florida State's 6-11 Lawrence McCray and 6-10 Reggie Royals dominated the backboards down the stretch, as Jacksonville's biggest man was 6-8 Bob Nylin. Ron King's 28 points topped the winners, while Harold Fox had 29 for Jacksonville.

Marquette trailed by five points in the closing moments, but won on Frazier's last-second bucket. Larry Finch scored 23 to lead Memphis State. Jim Chones topped Marquette with 18.

Henry Wilmore scored 29, Wayne Grabiec had 22 and John Lockhard added 19 to pace Michigan. George Gervin's 26 points and Lindell Reason's 21 sparked Eastern Michigan to its near-upset.

Penn led 46-41 with 6:17 to go in regulation play, but Duke scored the next five points to tie. The teams were deadlocked 47-47 after regulation play, but Morse's basket in overtime gave Penn its 47th consecutive regular season victory.

No. 14 St. John's traveled to Washington and defeated Georgetown 107-67, with team captain Greg Cluess scoring 31 points and grabbing 24 rebounds. Both were career highs for the 6-8 Cluess.

None of the other teams in the top 20 saw action Tuesday night.

In other major results, St. Bonaventure overpowered Thomas More 83-51. Illinois pounded South Dakota 96-56, Purdue whipped Northern Illinois 112-85, TCU got past Lamar U. 95-76, Iowa State edged Drake 83-80, Army topped Calvary 79-71, Penn State tripped Columbia 73-50, Cornell edged Colgate 95-93 and Texas-El Paso defeated Iowa 65-57.

Captains Selected For BGSU Squad

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Defensive end Bill Montrie and Wingback Bill Pittman will captain the 1972 Bowling Green football squad, expected to be a strong Mid-American Conference title contender.

Both are juniors. Montrie is a 180-pounder from Toledo and Pittman, 162 pounds, is from Struthers, Ohio.

Rosen Still After Cleveland Indians

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Al Rosen, who heads a group trying to buy the Cleveland Indians from Vernon Stouffer for more than $8 million, says he hopes Stouffer "will reconsider" the offer.

Rosen said Tuesday night his group "cannot go any higher" than the reported $8.5 million and added:

"If Mr. Stouffer wants to reconsider, we are here and the offer is, too."

It costs $25 to enter the U.S. Open golf championship.

Trevino Golfer Of The Year, But Thinks Nicklaus Best

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — Lee Trevino is golf's Player of the Year but his own personal vote, he admits, goes to Jack Nicklaus.

"That man is out of this world—he is almost inhuman," the garrulous, wisecracking Mexican-American from El Paso, Tex., said after being named Tuesday as pro golf's Player of the Year.

"I've heard all these tales about Walter Hagen, Bob Jones and Ben Hogan—I've even played with Ben Hogan—and I know they were great."

"I don't want to appear disrespectful. I am proud of these men for what they did to keep the game alive. But I don't think any golfer who ever lived is as good as Jack Nicklaus."

Trevino was the overwhelming choice of his fellow pros for the annual award presented by Golf Magazine. He flew into New York to be toasted and grilled by the press.

Both Nicklaus and Trevino closed out their 1971 golf campaign Monday in the Disney World at Orlando, Nicklaus winning the event to capture the year's money-winning honors with a record $244,490.50.

Trevino, who led most of the year, was second with 231,202.97.

"Jack played in only 18 tournaments. I played in 31," Trevino said, refusing to point out that his 31 included the British, U.S. and Canadian Open titles in the space of four weeks.

"Nicklaus should be the favorite every time he tees up the ball—he's that good. He's powerful, we all know that. But he's also a shotmaker. He has tremendous touch."

"Take any tournament. Do you know of any five men you'd take against Nicklaus? No, sir, he's the best. I hear some other pros say he can't drive well or he's weak on this iron or that iron. He's not weak anywhere."

Trevino said he would have played in at least five more tournaments but he caught the flu at the start of the year, then his mother died, and in August he was stricken with appendicitis.

Woody Hayes is in his 21st season of football coaching at Ohio State.

Beginning Jan. 15 the local group will begin work every Saturday at the Chillicothe YMCA indoor pool.

Julius Adams Heads NFL On Defense

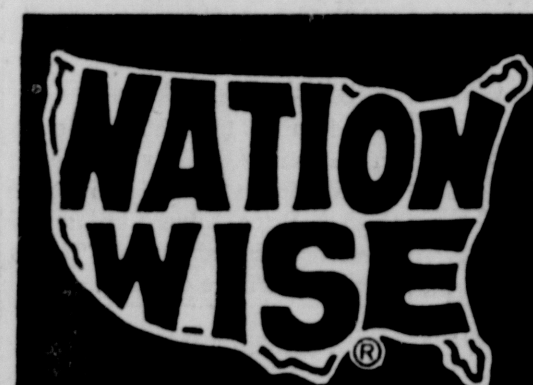

NEW YORK (AP) — "I like being No. 2," says New England's rookie defensive tackle, Julius Adams.

But today he's No. 1—selected the Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League by The Associated Press for the contributions he made in the Patriots' 34-13 upset of the Miami Dolphins last Sunday.

Adams has applied the No. 2 label to himself ever since the draft when the Patriots made quarterback Jim Plunkett their No. 1 draft choice and selected Adams on the second round, precipitating a series of "Julius Who?" questions from their fans.

Adams was overshadowed again against the Dolphins as Plunkett hit on 16 of 23 passes for 223 yards and two touchdowns. But it was the Patriots' defensive unit, as much as anything, that was responsible for the upset.

The second annual Vince Lombardi award dinner will be held Jan. 14 in Houston. It is sponsored by the Rotary Club of Houston.

This unique training course helps you become an IDS Man with a prestige career in the fascinating field of finance!

Our new training course can prepare you for a full-time career with unlimited earnings as an IDS Man . . .

IDS stands for Investors Diversified Services
Now Investors Diversified Service offers to mature and qualified men an unusual opportunity for self discovery . . . a chance to learn for yourself your own potential in a more rewarding and satisfying career than you have ever dreamed of.

We've been in business since 1894. We're the largest organization of our kind in the world — more than eight billion dollars in managed assets. Across the country we're represented by 4,000 high-caliber men of every age, race, religion and earlier career background. Plus a home office staff of 1,300.

Our services include mutual funds and life insurance which we offer according to a simple but unique philosophy: the customer's interests come first. (Maybe that's why we have over 1,800,000 customers.)

We want people who want more money

As a growing organization, IDS needs people who want a lifetime career. A career which gives you pride in yourself. Pride in your company. Independence. Professional status in your community. Integrity. Recognition. The opportunity to help every man and woman you meet to achieve an added measure of financial security. You can earn an income as big as you want to make it, working your own hours as your own boss. As a full-time INVESTORS Man you can participate in a generous retirement program and group life insurance, plus medical and surgical benefits.

We're entering a new phase of growth. Especially here in Central Ohio, where the professional representatives now in place can't begin to keep up with the market for our services. Those we select will join us as independent contractors. With no income limits. No territorial limits. Free to set their own hours. Supported by the industry's biggest and best national advertising campaign.

We Provide Training

To the men and women who meet our standards, we provide formal training which continues throughout your career, beginning with your choice of daytime training or an evening schedule. At the start of your career, you'll pass the written examinations of the Securities and Exchange Commission, and the Ohio Insurance Commission. Later when you qualify, you'll become a Correlator and work with bank trust officers, attorneys and C.P.A.'s on behalf of your clients.

We'd like to tell you more

If you are interested in putting your spare time to work for you in learning about this wonderful new career at absolutely no cost to you, then call this telephone number without delay. Our office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. A new series of training sessions is about to start, and we would like to meet you personally and tell you about beginning the course that could change your whole life for the better.
